

Press Release

For immediate release: 1st May 2011

Fit4Talent.com is set to become the Leading Online Resource for anyone currently working in or looking to enter the Talent and Entertainment Industry

Milton Keynes – 1st May 2011 - Fit4Talent are pleased to announce the re-launch of its ever popular website www.fit4talent.com, which is set to go public in June 2011. The innovative new website is set to become the leading online resource for anyone currently working in or looking to enter into the Talent and Entertainment Industry. With a new aesthetically pleasing look, it will feature familiar services such as News, Events and Help Guides, as well as an in-depth Resource Area containing Guides and Downloads relating to all aspects of the Talent and Entertainment Industry. An extensive Jobs area will be available, allowing relevant vacancies to be found with ease and applications made promptly.

At the core of the Website will be an Online Directory, allowing Members to be searched and found easily, with personal profiles featuring Text, Photos, Audio and Video content. Social Networking tools will be incorporated, allowing members to connect with other members and companies, exchange personal messages and communicate via a forums and message boards, also allowing close integration with other major Social Networks such as Twitter, Facebook and LinkedIn.

Existing users will notice massive improvements when compared to the current website and will benefit hugely from the enhanced layout and effortless navigation, ensuring an enjoyable experience for all users.

Jamie Stimpson, Co-Founder said "It's a tough world to be in, not everyone wants to live the 9-5 lifestyle, people have goals and dreams to achieve but often feel held back because of the lack of opportunities, we aim to change that by delivering something that enables people like me to have every chance possible in making it".

Mark Stuart, Co-Founder said "We're utilising the latest in technological advances to ensure we deliverer a fast and responsive system, allowing us to enhance the users experience and ensure total privacy and security. We will ensure user feedback is a top priority and that the website continually grows with new content and features."

About Fit4Talent

Fit4Talent was founded in 2010 by local artist Jamie Stimpson and entrepreneur Mark Stuart with the aim to revolutionise the online Entertainment and Talent industry. Fit4Talent has already attracted vast industry interest from corporations such as BBC, ITV and TalkBack Thames, and enjoys a continuously increasing membership base.

fit4talent.com